Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 27, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues that DeLorme does not teach, disclose or suggest a memory that stores information on registered members, an interface that receives a member ID, and a controller that confirms the member based on the ID and prepares travel information based on the information regarding the member stored in the memory upon confirmation. The Examiner respectfully disagrees and directs the applicant to Figure 8A (806) User/Member List, an interface that receives a member ID (col. 34, lines 26-36 (John Jones from Knox, Ind, "logs onto" TRIPS online. The basic user identity data (name, address, membership code) is entered), a controller that confirms the member based on the ID (col. 34, lines 26-36 user registration and the differential access/output arrangements contingent upon membership or registered status), prepares travel information regarding member stored in the memory (col. 6, lines 8-46 other systems fail to provide a system that takes into account all of the variations in user background that influences travel choice; single integrated travel/activity planning system).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
